

Gabriel Franklin

3/23/22

Spartacus Poem

Spartacus, what an inspiring hero
There should be a movie by Deniro
An escaped slave turned to a leader
With grit, determination, and a hardened demeanor
Sullah's politics planted the seeds
Because he didn't understand the people's needs
It all set off a vicious uprising
A performance that was truly mesmerizing
The soldiers who tried to single him out
Were immediately met with many a shout!
You couldn't count the heads with an abacus
All that yelled out "I am Spartacus!"